DEMOCRATS AND PATRIOTS

THE FOUR MEMBERS OF THE PRESIDENT'S PARTY WHO VOTED AGAINST HIS SURRENDER TO THE LABOR UNIONS

James P. Clarke, Democrat, of Little Rock, was born in Yazoo City, Yazoo County, Miss., August 18, 1854; second child and eldest son of Walter and Ellen (White) Clarke; was educated in the common schools of his native town, in several academies in Mississippi, and studied law at the University of Virginia, graduating in 1878; began the practice of his profession at Helena, Ark., in 1879. He entered the political field in 1886, being then elected to the House of Representatives of the Arkansas Legislature; in 1888 was elected to the State Senate, serving until 1892, and being president of that body in 1891, and ex-officio lieutenant-governor; was elected attorney-general of Arkansas in 1892, but declined a renomination, and was elected governor in 1894. At the close of his service as governor he moved to Little Rock and resumed the practice of the law. He was elected to the United States Senate to succeed Hon. James K. Jones, and took his seat March 9, 1903; re-elected in 1909. Elected president pro tempore of the Senate at the beginning of the Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth Congresses. His present term of service will expire March 3, 1921.

Thomas William Hardwick, Democrat, of Sandersville; born December 9, 1872; served two terms in Georgia Legislature; was elected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Congresses, and re-elected to the Sixty-third Congress; was nominated by the State Democratic convention of Georgia on September 2, 1914, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator A. O. Bacon, and was elected to the United States Senate on November 3, 1914, by the people of Georgia for the term ending March 3, 1919.

Henry J. Steele, Democrat, of Easton, was born in Easton May 10, 1860; was educated in the public schools and at a business college; was admitted to the bar in 1881, and has practiced law continuously to the present time. In 1914 was elected president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association; received the degree of A.M. from Lafayette College and LL.D. from Muhlenberg College; was elected to the Sixty-fourth Congress, receiving 15,118 votes to 8,306 for John D. Hoffman, Republican; 4,671 for Edward Hart, Washington Party; 718 for Howard Flagler, Prohibitionist, and 668 for Peter V. Cargill, Socialist.

Eugene Black, Democrat, of Clarksville, son of A. W. and T. A. Black, was born near Blossom, Lamar County, Texas, July 2, 1879; received a common school education in the public schools at Blossom, and taught school for three years in Lamar County; is a lawyer, having graduated from the law department of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., and located in Clarksville to practice his profession; was married in 1903 to Miss Mamie Coleman, of Blossom, Texas, and they have five children—Margaret, Lydia Gene, Adelle, Rachael, and Harold. He was elected to the Sixty-fourth Congress, never before having held public office.
